Community Easter Egg Hunt: 4/4/2015

The City of Greensburg and K&S Liquidations will be hosting an Easter Egg Hunt at the Greensburg Fitness & Disc Golf Park on Saturday, April the 4th beginning at Noon CT.

There will be three age groups (0 to 2, 3 to 5 and 6 to 12 year olds), three prizes for each age group. A prize for most eggs collected, a "golden egg" and a prize for the least amount of eggs collected per age group. In the event of a tie, the first in each category to check in, get their eggs counted and signed off on by an official for the event will be deemed the winner.

This event is free and open to children ages 0 to 12. For all the details about this year's Community Easter Egg Hunt, please visit www.greensburgonline.com/EasterEggHunt2015 or like Greensburg Matters on Facebook, or contact Greensburg City Hall at 270-932-4298.

K-Country & Q-104 Continue Partnership with Greensburg 20/20

As the second year of Greensburg 20/20's schedule of events kicked off with the Lindsey Wilson College Cycling Program's Team Time Trial and Criterium Race on, Saturday, March the 21st in downtown Greensburg, the City of Greensburg and Greensburg 20/20 would like to celebrate their continued Platinum Partnership with K-Country and Q-104 radio stations.

"The Platinum Partnership is the highest level of partnership with Greensburg 20/20 and without the media support of K-Country and Q-104, our programs would not be possible," according to Community Development Coordinator for the City of Greensburg, Ivy Stanley. In 2014, Greensburg saw larger crowds and an increased number of events held in the downtown area than in years passed. As a renewing partner with Greensburg 20/20, K-Country and Q-104 will continue to receive recognition as an event sponsor in all Greensburg 20/20 programs throughout 2015. Greensburg 20/20 is working to bring new events to Green County, like LWC's Cycling Program's Criterium Race, in an effort to make them annual events. Greensburg 20/20 also continues to work to make traditional events like summer's Jammin' on the Square even better than before.

"Our stations, K-Country 1057 and Q-104, are extremely proud to partner with the City of Greensburg for a second year in promoting the Greensburg 20/20 events for 2015," said Barb Smith, General Manager of K-Country and Q-104. "We believe the outstanding events that Greensburg 20/20 works to bring to the area not only helps to strengthen the development of our community, but also provides a variety of fun and entertaining events to meet the interests of many people in our area. And, we're excited about another great line-up of events this year," she continued to say.

"K-Country and Q-104 have always been tremendous corporate citizens for Greensburg and we certainly look forward to continuing that relationship with their new owner, Forcht Broadcasting," said Mayor Lisle Cheatham. Mayor Cheatham went on to say, "We appreciate all our business sponsors no matter the level they choose to participate. They understand and see the benefit of creating a community that gives their residents and visitors opportunities to come together and enjoy a variety of events – art, theatre, music, as well as sports. We hope our citizens will take the time to tell these businesses thank you for their participation as well."

For additional information about Greensburg 20/20, how to become a corporate or patron sponsor or information on upcoming 2015 events please contact Ivy Stanley at Greensburg City Hall or visit the community calendar on the City of Greensburg's website, www.greensburgonline.com.
